

The First People

Paleo hunters on a bluff represent Michigan's earliest people. They came into this area from the south to hunt, fish, and gather. They were nomads who hunted caribou, mastodon and the Jefferson mammoth.